

As a resident of Indiana, I have enjoyed the freedom that their law protecting me from unwanted telemarketing call provides. That I am not interrupted at dinner time especially welcomed. I would be very upset if their law would be weakened by some action on a federal level.